Laboring in Vain And Wasting Money
The bringing upon of Hughes to Kentucky and the injection of the fervid Roosevelt into the campaign here shows that the Republican leaders still have hopes of carrying the old Commonwealth by appeals to passion and expediency, by abuse of Wilson and the Democratic party and with the tainted money that Wall Street is supplying so lavishly. They are reckoning in vain, however. The Democrats are on to their game and every man intends to do his duty, when spells Republican defeat, labor lost and money wasted.

Manfield Pleased With Army Service

W. T. Manfield is in receipt of a letter from his son, Robert J. Man-field, who is a sergeant in the Richmond company now at El Paso, Texas.
He says he is getting along fine and is delighted with army service. He tells of a bike to Las Cruces and back, a distance of 150 miles, which he and the rest of the Richmond boys had recently taken. They encountered and four or five inches deep and it was hard work to make more than ten miles a day. In that bike the Kentucky boys made the highest rating, with a back of South Carolina soldiers second.

Messrs D. B. Shackelford & Co.
Richmond, Ky.

Gentlemen:—

The Akron Sulkey corn cutter that I bought of you I have used principally in cutting sugar cane, both where it was sown in rows and broadcast, and can do more work with it than I could with a half a dozen men with knives, and cut it close enough to the ground to make the expense of cutting clear. It has given perfect satisfaction.

Yours respectfully,
B. M. IGO.
